

Barque Picton Castle

Outward bound on an Epic Circumnavigation of the World in May 2010

The ship and her crew will sail 30,000 miles across the oceans of the world, visiting enchanting islands in the tropics, learning the skills of deepwater mariners and the way of a ship sailing a classic square-rigger in the trade winds in this voyage of a lifetime.

Through the Panama Canal on to the Galapagos, across the South Pacific to Pitcairn Island, Mangareva, Tahiti, Rarotonga, Tonga, Fiji, Espirito Santo, Malekula, Pentecost islands and more, through the Torres Strait to Bali, across the Indian Ocean to South Africa; South Atlantic trade wind passage to the islands of the West Indies, north to Bermuda and homeward bound to Lunenburg, Nova Scotia in just about a year.
